From the coast, the fastest route is a flight from Mombasa or Diani to Wilson, then a light aircraft to a Mara airstrip, typically a full travel day.

Road travel is long and private Masai Mara safari from Mombasa not recommended as a single leg. A common alternative is to break the journey in Nairobi overnight.

Baggage limits apply on both legs, and coastal humidity means drying kit before the safari. Book the Mara flight early in peak season, since light aircraft seats sell out. Coastal to Mara routing is at %LINK%.
