The gamer likewise limbo casino game puts a wager and then starts a round. A random multiplier is generated. If the created multiplier is higher than or equal to the target multiplier set by the gamer, the bet wins. If it falls below, the bet is lost.

The Core Mechanics

- Target Multiplier: The number the player wants the random generator to hit or exceed. This can usually be set anywhere from a modest £ 1.01 x £ to an astronomical £ 1,000,000 x £ (depending upon the gambling establishment's home edge and maximum payout limits).
- Win Chance: The mathematical possibility of striking the target multiplier. As the target multiplier increases, the win chance reduces proportionally.
- Payment: Calculated by increasing the initial bet quantity by the target multiplier.

- The Martingale System (High Risk): Popularized in games of even opportunity, the player doubles their bet after every loss, aiming to recover all previous losses and protect a revenue equal to the initial base bet upon a win. In Limbo, this is normally coupled with a £ 2x £ target multiplier.
  - Caution: This technique requires a substantial bankroll and can strike gambling establishment table limits or deplete funds rapidly during a long losing streak.
- The Anti-Martingale (Paroli) System: The inverse of the Martingale, gamers double their bet after a win to profit from winning streaks, and reset to the base bet after a loss.
- The Moonshot Strategy (Pure Entertainment): Players set the multiplier to an exceptionally high number (e.g., £ 500x £ or £ 1000x £) with a small fractional bet. The goal is easy: record an enormous windfall with very little danger to the general bankroll.
