Learning a new Arabic term. Choose one term introduced by the teacher. Write down the teacher's explanation and the example used in class, keeping pronunciation questions for a listening turn. Ask for a second example at the following lesson and check whether the earlier explanation still makes sense.

Finding the starting line. A beginner can spend more time finding the right line than reading it. Ask the teacher to https://www.expertsmind.com/blog/post/online-quran-classes-for-kids-a-complete-guide-for-parents-71144.aspx identify a visual landmark on the agreed page before the learner starts. Close and reopen the page. Can the learner find the starting point using the landmark and explain where to begin?

Keep the two observations separate in the lesson record. If the learner needs help with finding the starting online Quran tuition UK line, return to that exercise next time even if the first went smoothly.
