The kitchen is where the day starts and ends in most Roanoke homes. Coffee in the morning, homework at the counter in the afternoon, dinner at night and a sink full of dishes before bed. It is also the room that gets dirty fastest and hardest. That is why the complete kitchen clean-up is a core part of every visit from The Happy Housekeepers, the house cleaning company that has served the Roanoke Valley since 1979.

A complete kitchen clean-up means more than wiping the counters. Crews work through the room, cleaning surfaces, the sink, the exterior of appliances and the stovetop, then finish by mopping the floor so the whole space looks and feels fresh. The goal is a kitchen you actually want to cook in, not just one that looks fine from the doorway.

Some kitchen jobs need more than a regular visit can provide. The Happy Housekeepers lists cleaning the Click here to find out more interior of ovens and refrigerators among its specialized services. Baked-on spills inside the oven and sticky shelves in the fridge are the kind of jobs most people put off for months. Adding them to a visit every few months keeps your appliances working well and stops odors before they start.
