A balloon safari launches before crack of dawn from a clearing within the reserve. You watch the inflation, climb into a basket with eight to 16 passengers, and lift off as the solar rises.

Flights ultimate about an hour, drifting low over herds and river traces. Landings are gentle yet should be would becould very well be bumpy, and the chase motor vehicle meets you for a bush breakfast.

It is costly and climate based, with launches cancelled in prime wind or rain. Browse around this site Book it for the midsection of your stay so a cancellation could be rescheduled. It complements recreation drives as opposed to replacing them. Balloon preferences occur at %LINK%.